By Telegraph to The Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.-[By the Ass ciated Press.] A dispatch from Buffalo timed 3:50 a.m. says: "Since 2 o'clock this morning bullets have been flying all over the freight yards and rumors of killings are prevalent all along the line and at every point.

"It is reported that a regular engagement took place in the Erie 'yards one mile from town and that four men were killed and two wounded. It is also said that one of the dead is a soldier.

"It is impossible to verify the rumor. Inquiry at brigade headquarters brought the information that news of the shoot ing had been received, but no details were obtainable. At the police station nothing was known."

Four Men Killed. BUFFALO, Aug. 23 .- 4 a.m.-|By the Associated Press.] An attack was made on the Twelfth Regiment shortly after 2 o'clock by gangs of strikers and their friends. They crept up to within a stone's throw of the camp, hiding under cars and behind trucks, and then threw stones and pieces of iron at the soldiers.

The soldiers answered the attack with bullets. The shooting was kept up for a long time and still the stone-throwing continued.

There is some shooting going on at this hour; most of the shots are coming from the direction of the Clinton street crossing of the Nickel Plate road. Capt. Boylan is there in charge of Co. K of the Twelfth Regiment.

There are tenements near the railroad and the people are all out in the streeet. There is great excitement.

The latest report from the scene of the shooting is that four men were killed and two wounded in one place in the Erie yards a mile outside of the city and that a number of other men were wounded by the soldiers' bullets in other

THE DAY IN BUFFALO.

BUFFALO (N.Y.,) Aug. 22 .- [By the Associated Press. | Master Workman Sweeney, of the switchmen's order has now asked the heads of all other labor organizations allied with the switchmen in railroad work to meet him here. Already Sargent is here and others are expected tomorrow and next day. The trend of a fair judgment leads to the conviction that there will be no concerted abandonment of work by the concerted abandonment of work by the organizations to be represented in the conference. No conference can possibly occur before Wednesday, while the likelihood is that the first session will not be held before Thursday. Meantime speculation may be expected as to whether Sweeney will order out other switchmen West or East, or both, or whether he will appropriate the conference of the content of the content of the conference of the content of the content of the conference of the content of the cont or whether he will announce officially and formally the defeat of his men. There are renewed intimations that the switchmen of the Grand Trunk may add them selves to the strikers. No troops will be withdrawn until time shall have made improbable any further attacks upon the present switchmen. Gen. Porter said today that the troops will be ordered home as soon as the situation warrants it.

The car handlers employed on the Lehigh trestle on the water front stopped work this afternoon and told the yardmen they would not resume until the grievance of the switchmen is settled. The men were not satisfied with their condition.

It is believed here that the firemen of the local organization have passed the point where the enthusiagm of their sympathy might take them out on a strike. It is not thought now that they will go out independent of the order at large. Associated Press correspondent met the fremen's chief and asked him if he had given an ultimatum to the effect that the firemen would not be called out except they were joined by other labor organizations allied in railway work.

"That is the situation and I told Sweeney exactly that," said Sargent. "Sweeney invited me to a conference with himself and the executive officers of the railroad labor unions. Sweeney will place the situation before these officers and a determination will be jointly reached as to whether organized railway labor shall make this occasion for a united effort."

Briefly then, the strike, if it comes, must be one involving the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, Brotherhood of Railway Telegraphers.

Vice-President Webb, of the Central, said this morning that he had not yet made answer to the proposition of Sheriff Beck to swear in as deputy sheriffs all the non-union switchmen employed on the Central.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 22.—[By the Associated Press.] The Knights of Pythias are arriving today in brigades Every gaily decked cable car bears crowds of people that fill them completely, and many of them are ridon the platforms. The encamp-

The report of officers of the endow ment rank of Knights of Pythias states that on July 1, 1892, there were 1417 active members, 29,407 endowment members, and the endowment in force was $62,952,000, showing an increase of 500 sections, 8000 members and $17,000,000 endowment in the two years preceding.

It is estimated that not less than 65,000 Knights of Pythias and other visitors are in the city. About half of these, who will participate in the encampment, are now quartered at Camp Shaw. The remainder will arrive be-tween tonight and noon tomorrow, when fficially opened.

At noon today dark clouds began to roll up at the northern horizon and an hour later, without warning, a storm descended upon the town, accompanied by a furious gale and drenching rain. Several tents at the camp were blown down and those that remained standing were filled with dust, which flew in clouds before the rain fell. Everything not well sheltered was soaked with rain and a good deal of discomfort resulted. The rain also matred somewhat the beauty of the downtown decorations. The weather tonight is clearing and the signal station predicts a fine day for tomorrow's parade.

A Decision of Importance in Texas.

The State Commission's Rates Upset by the Court,

And its Right to Make Tariffs for the Roads Denied.

Right of States to Regulate Railway Business—The Case to Be Appealed.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—[By the Associated Press.] A dispatch from Dallas, Tex., says that Judge McCormick, at Dallas, in his decision in the case of the ailroads against the Texas Railway Commissioners, decided every point in favor of the railroad companies and granted an injunction against the commissioners, restraining them from establishing the proposed rates. These rates, proposes by the commission, the railroads claimed would have compelled them to run the roads at a serious loss.

The decree reviews Texas railroadbuilding and the agitation leading to the adoption of the constitutional amendment authorizing the commission.

Judge McCormick then says: There is no such collusion between the complaining trust companies and the rail-roads shown as would prejudice the rights of the trust companies to file bills. Moreover, the trust companies show an equitable interest in the fair earnings of the able interest in the fair earnings of the railroads, actual ownership and possession of securities of the roads which are being injured and threatened with destruction by the railroads commission's acts. They show, further, that the railroads are coerced by the commission and the directors cannot exercise their judgment and discharge their duties as they should, and would but for said coercion.

The Court then goes on to show that the railroads were built under extreme hardships, opening up a new country and having to wait a long time for returns, also that the character of the turns, also that the character of the soil was such as to render it extremely difficult to construct and maintain sound roads, and that the proper cost of the plants as they exist today exceeds the amount of the bonded indebtedness. The Court continues:

The Court continues:

The earnings of these roads have not been diverted to improper uses, and none of these railroads except the Guit, Colorado and Santa Fé has ever paid a dividend. Four of these roads have had to submit to the process of reorganization under foreclosure proceedings, two of them a second time, and the guif road, which has so far escaped this ordeal, now owes a floating debt of upward of $3,000,000.

With inconsiderable exceptions the commission has reduced every tariff which it touched. Under the commission rates the Texas and Pacific derived only enough ouched. Under the commission rates the rexas and Pacific derived only enough Texas and Pacific derived only enough revenue to pay operating expenses and cost of repairs and 5 per cent on $17,000 per mile. This road under such tariff has lost over $212,000 in seven months. The St. Louis and Southwestern has not earned the necessary operating expenses and has been compelled to borrow money to meet a deficit in the operating expenses and interest on its mortgage obligations. The loss to the International and Great Northern in the few months it has been out of the hands of a receiver, shows a greater ratio than $200,000 per annum. The loss to the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fé from these commission tariffs aggregates $300,000.

Under the commissions ruling, the roads are deprived of the lawful use of their

In conclusion, Judge McCormick says:

It clearly appears to me that every presision of this law which tends to forcompliance with the rates of the commission, whether they be reasonable or not, invalid.

Orders were therefore issued re

The case will be appealed to the United States Supreme Court.

A PLEA FOR CLEVELAND.

Carl Schurz and Others Issue an Address to German Voters. New York, Aug. 22.—[By the Associated Press.] The German-American Cleveland Union has issued an address signed by Carl Schurz, Oswald Otten orfer, William Steinway, Henry Vill ard, Louis Windmuller and Gustav H. Schwab, which, after praising Grove Cleveland and giving reasons, urges all German-Americans to cast their ballots for the Democratic candidates. Being translated the address reads in part as follows part as follows:

Impressed with the unusual importance of the coming Presidential election, we regard it as our duty to give you our reasons for believing that the welfare of our adopted country requires the election of Grover Cleveland, and that he deserves our adopted country requires the election of Grover Cleveland, and that he deserves the votes of naturalized Germans. Above all, we believe that he is a thoroughly honest man, which even fact his most bitter enemies do not dare to dispute. Among his most marked characteristics are his abundant courage and adherence to his convictions. As the holder of the executive power, he invariably subordinated party interest to the common welfare. We need only refer to the firmness with which notwithstanding the strong, tendency of his party in the South and far West to bring about unlimited coinage of silver, he unhesitatingly warned them of the dangers liable from such a policy. His innate sense of duty cannot be better proved than by the fact that during his Presidential administration, as well as during his second candidacy, he never was a favorite with machine politicians, whose aim was their own welfare. It was owing to his intelligence and courage that tariff reform was inscribed on the banner on which his whole party united and was led to a glorious victory. There is no doubt that by following the same banner it will win another victory at the end of the present campaign.

Therefore, we earnestly beseech our fellow-citizens to aid us in securing the election of Grover Cleveland. We do not hestitate to make this appeal to our countrymen, because the platform of the Democratic party is entirely satisfactory in regard to the main question.

Fiery Talk at a Labor Meeting New York, Aug. 22.—A proposition for organized labor to hold a conference to effect the emancipation of working men from "capitalistic criminalism anarchism, oppression and robbery" produced much flery discussion at a meeting of the Central Labor Union

Theodore F. Cuno, who introduced the resolution, said the workingmen in this country outnumber the regular army, militia and capitalists ten to one and he thought it was time the organizations of these techniques. zations of labor took steps to prevent the daily slaughter of men who were fighting labor battles to win food for themselves and their children.

I have carefully examined the prisoners and jailer here, giving the prisoners opportunities to make complaints, and find absolutely no grounds for the reports of improper treatment at this time. There is an abundance of good food and pure water. Considering the circumstances, the treatment of the prisoners has been most liberal and they are comfortable, and complaints purporting to come from the prisoners here either relate to conditions which might have existed when large numbers were first arrested, or else they originated in the minds of sympathizers who did not confine themselves to the facts I have written.

CRIME AND CRIMINALS.

Man Arrested for a Disgusting Offens Late last evening there was considerable excitment on Teath street and Denver avenue. A man named Charles B. Palmer, who has a wife and family on Fourth and Los Angeles streets, pre sented himself at Mrs. Elizabeth White's front door and exposed his person. The lady ran to the back door, and was about to leave the house,- was about to leave the house, when palmer again confronted her. She called loudly for help, when the brute jumped over the fence and started toward town as fast as he could run. Several of the women who live in the neighborhood gave chase, and kept the fellow in sight until they reached Seventh street, were they met Sergeant of Police Morton, who joined in the chase, and soon placed the wretch unler arrest.

He was taken to the police station and locked up on a charge of exposing his person. He was slightly under the influence of liquor, but was not so drunk that he did not know what he was do-

A Black But Police Officer Rich made a good capure yesterday. Friday last several of he boys at Athletic Park, after con-cluding a baseball game, went to their diressing-rooms and found that a thief ressing-rooms and found that a had gone through their clothing.

thief got away with $2.50 in coin and several bunches of keys. A negro boy named Benjamin Per-kins who was noticed hanging around the dressing-rooms was suspicioned and when Officer Rich arrested him yes terday he confessed and gave up the keys.

This is not the first time that Perkins

This is not the first time that Perkins has been before the Police Court. A year ago he was before the Police Court on a charge of petty larceny, and narrowly escaped a long term in jail. This time he is booked for burglary, and as the officers have a strong case against him he will go to State's prison for several years. for several years.

Criminal Notes. In Justice Austin's department of the Police Court yesterday Ah Wing and Ah Jim were convicted on a charge of selling lottery tickets. They were fined $20 each. There were three Sunday drunks, and as the chain gang is crowded at present, the Court gave them but two days each. William Mulholland got into a row with one of the Westlake Park employés yesterday ever a fence that he wanted to remove and was promply arrested and booked for disturbing the peace. He was before Justice Austin and had his trial set for Thursday. In the Police Court yesterday war rants were issued for the arrest of a couple of saloon-keepers who sold liquor last Sunday. They will be arrested this morning.

Broke Everything but the Record.

[Detroit Free Press.]

The young man had been especially sassy on the subject of his prowess as a bicycler, and he bet money that he could make a showing that would_startle somebody. Arrangements being completed, he started off on a twenty-five rills trie through the country. Nobedy mile trip through the country. Nobody knew exactly what happened, but several hours later a conglomeration of young man and bicycle was slowly brought into town on a hay wagon. In the evening a friend called and found him in bed, done up in splints and bandarges.

THE COLLIS TRAIN-ROBBERS.

It appears to be conclusive that Chris Evans and John Sontag, the Collistrain robbers, have escaped over the Sierras and are now in Nevada. Sheriff E. C. Seymour of San Bernardino, who i now in San Francisco, says that on Sat urday last the robbers, well mounted urday last the robbers, well mounted, rode into Oro Grande. It was a little after dinner. They did not tarry, but immediately proceeded on eastward. Oro Grande, a mere hamlet, is on the Mojave River, forty-five miles north of San Bernardino, over a range of mountains in San Bernardino county. The bandits were well armed with Winchesters and revolvers and did not attempt in any manner to conceal them. They dismounted for a moment and it was noticed that one of them was slighly lame. They answered the description of Evans They answered the description of Evans and Sontag perfectly. There was no attempt at disguise. Their horses were fresh and they were bowling right along. Mr. Seymour says they have evidently been changing horses among the mountain ranchers and thus have the mountain ranchers and thus have moved along unimpeded. He gives it as his opinion that the men were heading for Ehrenburg, on the Colorado River, where there are no officers.

The Examiner says that Sheriff Seymour received this intelligence after he got on the train. All the particulars got on the train. All the particulars were recounted in full by J. B. Burns, whom he has long known. Burns was in Oro Grande and saw and critically looked over the bandits. He called the attention of the Oro Grande people to the fact that it was undoubtedly Evans and Sontag, but nobody had the temerity to follow them. They knew it meant death to somebody. Sheriff Seymour closely questioned Burns and he described the appearance of each in detail. Then he drew from his pocked the printed description of Evans and Son-tag, distributed by the railroad. They fitted the two men down to the minutes

The sheriff has been ill and unable to make a rough mountain or desert trip, or he would have retraced his steps and followed them. He does not doubt that he would have caught them had he been able to take up the chase, or rather to flank them and intercept rather to flank them and intercept them on the Colorado River. The bandits had about 200 miles to go before they reached there. He, however, notified his principal deputy of the route they had taken. The Santa Fé Railthey had taken. The Santa Fé Rail-road authorities have also been notified, road authorities have also been notined, and it is believed also the Southern Pacific detectives.

Sheriff Seymour is said to be dirgusted with the whole pursuit. Several months ago he notified the railroad detectives that a notorious "fence" called tectives that a notorious "fence" called "Chris"—none other than this Evans—was the leader of several recent robberies. Had the railroad detectives worked as they should have done the gang would have been caught ere this. The detectives had once taken advantage of information he had furnished them and shut him out of a share of the reward for capturing a notorious horse-thiet, for capturing a notorious horse-thiet, and he has been chary of them ever since. Sheriff Seymour has a long story to tell of how detectives and offi-cers have been derelict in their duties in this and other instances.

Hon. Vincent E. Taylor of Cleveland, O., is in the city. Mr. Taylor represents his district in Congress.

I am pleased to report to you that the chemical engine house is nearly completed and ready for occupancy, but before it can be used some work will be necessary upon the grounds, such as a driveway and retaining walls. I would recommend the building of a brick wall, four inches thick, next to the building as a protection, the construction of a drive, filled up to grade with cement and concrete, a retaining wall on each side of the lot, as those adjoining are respectively three feet, and lower than it, and a cement guiter on the south side to

An Unwarranted Exaction The action of the Republican County Central Committee yesterday in adopting, as a test for voters at the coming primary election, a pledge, not of the customary kind, namely, to vote for the national candidates, Harrison and Reid, but for Lindley also, was the subject of a great deal of adverse comment yesterday in Republican circles. It is usual i formulating pledges of this sort to put in only the head of the ticket in a national or State campaign. The pledge as originally proposed in committee was simply to vote for Harrison and Reid. As an afterthought a mem ber from San Pedro proposed that the name of Lindlev be added by way of amendment, and the committee lacked the firmness and decision to reject the amendment. It was not a good stroke of politics on the part of Mr. Lindley's friends, and we anticipate that it will have an unfavorable effect on the whole that they represent the great toiling masses of the country. They do not.

To begin with, it is a confession of weakness on the part of Lindley, and implies a doubt of the support of the rank and file of the party unless they are literally forced into line. Republicans of the more independent kind do not allow themselves to be "crowded" that way. It is an indisputable proposition that a great many true-blue Republicans do not propose to vote for Lindley. They are conscientious men, and will not stultify themselves at the primaries by taking a pledge which they do not expect to fulfill. Such men will feel that such an attempt to cram Lindley down their throats i tantamount to reading them out of the party, and some of them will turn their backs on the whole ticket. Said a Republican, in conversation yesterday: I attempted to vote at the last pri mary, and my ballot was confiscated by one of Mr. Lindley's strikers and thrown away. I am debarred from voting at the coming primary because I cannot and will not take that pledge. It looks to me like an attempt to set up Mr. Lindley as the Republican party in this district. If Mr. Lindley is the Republican party I have no further use for it."

It is a misfortune that the head of the national ticket, and the legislative and county tickets, should be made to suffer from such an ill-conceived and over-zealous effort to bolster up Lindley's chances. It will not help Lindley and it will hurt the Republican party in this county.

Not so much for the general interest manifested, nor yet the thoroughness of the association's representation, but rather the fact that the contests would witness the fact that the contests would witness the coming together of players who have already won their reputation for skill in England, Canada and throughout the tennis circles of the East. It was from beginning to end a contest of English vs. America, and when Alexander of Santa Barbara and Kenneth Carter took the court the spectators watched with undisguised and attentive interest. Both players moved cautiously at first, each endeavoring to "size up" his opponent. When Carter volleyed and played close net, Alexander followed suit and returned Carter's balls with scarcely anerror. The Santa Barbara man from the first plainly outmatched Carter, and the set closed with a score in Alexander's favor of 6-8, 7-5 M. A. some of Those Who Will Contest at th NEWPORT (R. I.,) Aug. 14.—[Special Correspondence of The Times.] Within a very short time the best ten-nis players in every section of the country will be wending their way to-ward Newport, as the Mecca of their hopes, to take part in what is one of the great athletic contests of national importance. Every year, beginning about the last week in August, is held the tennis tournament to determine who is to have the honor and incidentally the trophies pertaining thereto, of being the champion of America in singles and doubles, and for about ten days the most skillful experts contend with one an other for the supremacy and afford in teresting exhibitions of what expert tennis really is. The scene of the contest is the Newport Casino, and around the hard turf courts, carefully marked out, are arranged the rows of seats for the thousands of spectators that daily watch the play. The balconies of the various club houses are always crowded whenever a view of some good match can be obtained. The twelfth annual tournament of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association will begin on Tuesday morning, August 28, and as many people do not understand the method of procedure it will be well to make it plain at the start. This tournament is open to any member of a club belonging to the naided, and until within a few years the loubles championship was settled in like manner. At present all the Westcided, and until within a few years the doubles championship was settled in like manner. At present all the Western teams compete in a tourney held at Chicago, and all those in the East at a similar meeting which was held this year at Saratoga. The winning pairs at both these events contest at Newport, the team winning playing the champions of the previous year for the national double championship and the possession of two very handsome silver cups, to be held on the same terms as the single trophy. The present national double championship is held by Oliver S. Campbell and all of which Newport society turns out en masse to witness the annual sport. With this explanation it will be of interest to inquire who are the prominent players who will cantest this year, and what are the probabilities of the championship falling to each. First as to the "All Comers." Clarence Hobart of New York, last year showed up as the second best player in this country, and came very close to reaching the top round of the ladder of tennis fame. During the season of 1891 Hobart had a most successful 1891 Hobart had a most succe career. He won the tournaments of Orange, Westchester and Nahant, the ance being in the Philadelphia tournament, where he unexpectedly suffered defeat at the hands of M.D. Smith, a player who reached the semi-finals at Newport last August. Hobart has been assiduously practicing in private, and he will be found to be a very hard man to beat. In appearance Hobart is tall, standing nearly six feet, and appearing to exceptionally good advantage when making a noted forehand sweep-stroke of his, known as the "Lawford." This making a noted foreign dispersions of his, known as the "Lawford." This brilliant stroke of the New York "crack" has won him many points, and is almost impossible to return. F. H. Hovey of Harvard has for years been prominent in tennis circles, and a quantity of prizes bear witness to his skill. He is now the intercollegiate champion, which honor he has well held he was unable to defend this July, lo ing to F. H. Hovey after a most excing match. In his style of play youn Hall excels in his ground strokes, bot forehand and backhand, and is a ver good volleyer when occasion offers. I his headwork aud generalship he is rajidly approaching the old masters of the game like Campbell or Huntington; femen being as quick to discover a wealness of his opponent and to intelligently play it for all it is worth, as is the youth play judiciously and "lobs" accuratly at the proper moment. Hall is loobd upon as likely to make his mark its year in the championships.

R. P. Huntington, Jr., who will appear to defend it when called upon at Newport. J. W. Carver and J. A. Ryerson of Chicago have just been selected as the representative team of the West. A new grand stand, affording comfortable accommodation for a largely increased number of spectators, is erected at the grounds, inclosing one of the best courts. Upon this court the concluding matches will be played, at all of which Newport society turns out en masse to witness the annual sport.

Another player whose success his year has attracted great attention to his peculiar style of game, is Richrd Stevens of Hoboken, N. J. Stevns plays what is known as a "base lie" game, first, last and all the time. Tat is, he remains away back in his cort, returning everything on the bound and never running to the net to volley as do most of the experts of the presit day. The cool, steady, constant ply of the Hoboken man is what has win him so many victories, and when posed to an erratic player his style game appears in its best light. Stevas has gotten his method of play down tafiner point than he ever had in previas years, and began his season's successely winning the Middle States champin. years, and began his season's successby winning the Middle States champin-ship. But the biggest feather in its cap thus far, was his victory at Wat-chester, where he came out first win a chester, where he came out first win a clean record of six victories and no lefeats in a contest in which each ran played every other man, among the ontestants being such doughty opponents as E. L. Hall, R. D. Wren, C. E. Satis, R. P. Huntington, Jr., and others. The Hoboken man will undoubtedly rink well at Newport, and his conquerer as lots of hard work cut out ahead for him. There are several other well-knownexperts whose early matches at Newport will be watched with great intenst. The most prominent is S. T. Chase of Chicago, the champion of the "wild md wooly" West, who will compete in everal of the Eastern meetings before the championships. Up to this year Chase was more of a base-line player than he was a volleyer, but in the Longwood tournament he showed a new tenderer.

was a volleyer, but in the Longwood tournament he showed a new tendency tournament he showed a new tendency to get to the net. Chase's oder brother, Charles A. Chase, was for several years the representative from the West at Newport, and when he retired on account of the pressure of business his mantle was won by his brother, who thus comes of tennis stock. "Sammy' Chase's cool, steady game is known to every regular onlooker, and his strict every regular onlooker, and his strict attention to the business in hand, and a most attractive presence in the court, make him a great favorite with the spectators. Last year Chase was one of the Western double pair who came so very close to beating Campbell and Huntington in the match of the East against the West, but this year his partner, Ryerson, joined fortunes with the latter's old partner and were successful again. Not only will the West be represented in the national event, but even the Pacific Slope will send its candidates in the persons of C. P. Hubbard and J. Tobin, both from California. Nothing Tobin, both from California. Nothing proved the increasing popularity of the game of tennis more than the fact that all sections of the country are taking hold of it with enthusiasm, and east west, south, and even the far-distant pacific Stope will contend in friendly. Pacific Slope, will contend in friendly rivalry with one another. Hubbard is one of the best players on the entire Pacific Coast, in fact, he ranks second, having won the annual tourney for the Pacific championship, but then met de-feat at the hands of W. H. Taylor, who had held it for some years. Hubbard made a very favorable impression in his first appearance in the East, at the Longwood meeting, and by his victory over R. D. Wrenn of Harvard proved himself to be a very clever expert with the racket. His strokes have an inverse twist causing them to shoot rapidly twist, causing them to shoot rapidly toward his opponent, but he fails to put much force into his returns. Hovey de-feated the Californian in the semi-finals in three straight sets, but the novelty of meeting such a noted "crack" as the of meeting such a noted "crack" as the intercollegiate champion evidently made Hubbard a trifle nervous, which nervousness will doubtless disappear before the championships take place. Tobin is a good player, but not the equal, by any means, of his confrere. Neither M. D. Smith of Philadelphia Pares Pares Happing New Yolgfrere. Neither M. D. Smith of Phila-delphia nor Percy Knapp of New York has been heard from to any extent this year, but the former from his victory over Hobart in June, and the latter, on general principles, will doubtless appear in good form when Dr. Dwight says. "Play ball!"

Space forbids anything further than a mere enumeration of other players whose names are familiar to tennis lovers. Malcolm Chase, the inter-schollovers. Malcolm Chase, the inter-scholastic champion; W. A. Larned, R. V. Beach, A. E. Wright, L. R. Parker, Quincy A. Shaw, Jr., P. S. Sears, G. R. Fearing, Jr., A. W. Post, V. G. Hall, J. S. Clark, C. T. Lee, Deane Miller and scores of the lesser lights, among whom may possibly turn up that much-talked-about "dark horse" will all be there, playing tennis all day and talking it the rest of their waking hours.

And this leads to the question: Will the winner of the "All Comers," whoever he may be, succeed in defeating the present champion, O. S. Campbell? This is "one of those things that nobody knows." Campbell went abroad last November to spend a year in travel. He was prevailed upon to enter some of the English events, including their championship at Wimbleton. He has not won any tournament, but he has defeated some of their best men and has proved that "American tennis players feated some of their best men and has proved that 'American tennis players are not far' behind their English brothers at the game. The leading British tennis organ says of Campbell's style that, "for really quick, hard volleying he has few equals and no superiors." He will return to this country just one week before the Newport meeting, which is allowing a very narrow margin to recover his practice and become acclimated; but his nerve and endurance are well known and be doubtless will give a good account of himself when he steps into that championship court before the 3000 or 4000 spectators to do battle for his title and trophy.

Oliver S. Campbell is 21 years old champion, which honor he has well held for ten years, his first victory being won by defeating O. S. Campbell, when the latter had but a few weeks before taken the national championship for the first time. To enumerate Hovey's victories would take too long, but it is enough to say that last year he reached the finals of the championship tourney, being defeated by Hobart, though the Harvard expert twice needed but a single point to win the match. This season Hovey has won every event in which he has entered and is as yet unbeaten.

mated; but his nerve and endurance are well known and he doubtless will give a special count of himself when he steps into that championship court before the 3000 or 4000 spectators to do battle for his title and trophy.

Oliver S. Campbell is 21 years old and a graduate of Columbia College in the class of 1891. He stands 5 feet 11 inches high and weighs about 140 and a graduate of Columbia College in the class of 1891. He stands 5 feet 11 inches high and weighs about 140 pounds. Of a slight, nervous build, he yet combines a strong arm with marvelous endurance and a constitution of the strain of the championship meeting.

Edward L. Hall of New York is one of the youngest of the tennis "cranks," but in his work of last season, continued thus far in this, he has shown himself to be very near the first rank of experts. Hall is not yet 21 years old, and is about the average height, and of good strength and endurance. In the matter of nerve and pluck in pulling out a close and hotly-contested match he has no superiors, though at times he has a tendency to be over-confident, born of prepeated successes. Hall today is the champion of the South and of New England, as well as holder of the Turked to the eup. The drawings take place under what is known to tennis players as the Bagnall-Wilde system, and eventually that player who is not defeated is declared the winner of the first prize in the singles, the man whom he last defeats being called the runner-up and getting the second prize. After one man is declared the winner of the "All Comers," comes the great match of the year, which enthusiasts from all parts of the country come to witness. The winner of the tournament challenges the previous champion and they play for the honor and the possession of the great Oliver S. Campbell of Brooklyn is the present national champion, and both he and Henry W. Slocum, Jr., formerly also of Brooklyn, but now of Staten island, have each won the cup twice; hence if the former can retain his supremacy this year or the latter succeeds in wresting it from him, it will belong to the winner and his heirs forever, and the national association will have to buy a new cup next year. The cup, as can be seen in the engraving, is most elaborate and valuable, being worth axer $400.

The Seventh Regiment is just at pres nt in a state of general anxiety over the forthcoming rifle contest, each company having a dozen or more would-be wearers of the Citizens' medal offered y the people of Ventura to the man by the people of Ventura to the man making the best score. The shooting will begin today, and each competitor will be required to fire ten shots each on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. The medal is to be presented at the time of the regular dress parade on Friday afternoon. Co. A is quite boastful of its probable chance of carrying off the coveted prize, but it is a genuine case of quien sabe, who will get it, as Cos. B. C and F are all known to contain some crack shots, with D and G as practically unknown quantities. It is safe to assert, however, that whoever gets the medal will earn it, and will also have good cause to be proud of the distinction.

The field day on Wednesday in the shooting will be a supported to the same can be supposed to the distinction.

The field day on Wednesday is looked The field day on Wednesday is looked forward to with a great deal of interest by both officers and men, as it is then that the true value of the extended order drill will be for the first time thoroughly appreciated in a regimental or battalion formation. drills are now being confined to this class of maneuvers and the non-commissioned officers are having their hands full mastering the details of the art of squad or section leading.

Yesterday the two schools for officers and "non-coms" were combined and all met in front of Col. Schrieber's tent to discuss the various problems suggested by the experience of different individuals at the morning drills. These daily schools are coming to be the most interesting and to many the most instructive features of the camp programme outside of drills, and there is dittle trouble experienced in keeping up the attendance, as even the privates are eager to come and learn by listening.

Co. C yesterday announced a campfire and concert to be held on the company street last evening, but word being received a few minutes later that the Ventura brass band would give a concert at the Plaza on Fourth street and inviting the regiment to attend, accordingly Co. C's entertainment was postponed, probably till Wednesday evening and many of the boys sought out their newly-found lady friends and took in the concert, which they then supplemented by a pleasant stroll on some of the many beautiful streets of this quiet seaport town.

Speaking of the ladles, it may be remarked with propriety that the amount of flirting done in and about camp is very slight, hardly noticeable in fact, when compared with the encampment at Santa Monica last year. The young ladies of Ventura are uniformly sociable and seem to be of a common mind with regard to making the visiting soldiers enjoy themselves. Yet there is none of that display of holdenism often so conspicuous at places of this kind. Many of the boys attended service at one or another of the five or six local churches on Sunday night and the reception received there was most cordial. Tonight there is to be a concert at the Episcopal Church and a social at the Presbyterian, both of which will draw their share of the soldiery.

The contest was very close for a time and evidenced good captainship on the part of the team leader, but superior weight and muscle finally told the tale in favor of the down country men. The bugle boys also pulled the drummers on the same occasion.

As it was, the engagement lasted a full half hour and was interesting and instructive, to say the least, to both spectators and contestants.

engagement lasted a full half hour and was interesting and instructive, to say the least, to both spectators and contestants.

In returning to camp Co. A of San Diego got too near the guard line, and in failing to respond to the challenge the pickets charged bayonets and as a result Corp. Fritze was badly cut on the muscle of the upper arm and Sergt. Smith was slightly wounded. The night was very dark and the men could not tell just how close they were to each other. Other than than these two mishaps the attack was made and the companies repaired to their quarters without a break.

A Chinaman found his way into camp late Sunday evening to his regret. He had not been there many minutes until some one yelled "blanket!" During the next few moments the two thousand or more spectators were almost convulsed with laughter. The Chinaman would shoot up into the air "falle same circus man." but with an expression on his physiognomy that would paralyze a Demosthenese. Yesterday morning another almond-eyed son of the Orient was given a "toss," but this one did not take the joke as well as his "consin" of the previous day. He struggled to keep out of the canvas, but his efforts were futile and he was tossed just the same. The Chinaman afterward made a complaint at regimental headquarters that he lost a $5 gold piece in the melée.

The work of the guardsmen was more difficult yesterday than on any previous day. Capt. Barry, of the United States army, took the militia in tow, putting them through different field maneuvers smartly and sharply.

Gen. Allen was seen yesterday by The Times reporter and asked how the Ninth Regiment compares quite favorably with the Northern regiments," answered the General. "The camp this year is much better than last year—that is, I mean it is in better shape. The police is much better than last year. Yes, the courtesy of the camp is improving. Of course there are a good many recruits in the Ninth Regiment, and it should not be expected that they would understand military discipline as well as ol payers of the State. The Ninth Regiment, although yet new, compares quite favorably with the other regiments of the State. Yes, I will visit all the regiments of the State, and before I leave Southern California I expect to visit each company in their company quarters. I want to see how they live at home and what their needs, if any, are."

A purse of $10 was made up among the soldiers yesterday for a sparring match between two colored boys, "Casion," the individual who looks after the colonel's t nt, and "Mike," Co. B's mascot. The ring was formed on the parade ground at 1:45 p.m., and the exhibition was witnessed by about 200 men. "Mike" won the purse in three rounds.

The Seventh and the Ninth.

Los Angrees, Aug. 22.—[To the Editor of The Times.] Please allow an old "vet" a few words regarding the Seventh and Ninth regiments now in camp at Ventura and Long Beach. I have spent two days in each encampment and must say, as a whole, the Ninth Regiment is the best in their did maneuvers, but when it comes right down to soldierly deportment the Seventh are away in the lead, as they behave themselves as soldiers should while in camp. i. e. are very particular in saluting all their officers and indulge in no unmilitary behavior such as blanket-tossing, etc. This latter performance may do for small boys; outside of camp, but there it should stop.

would be either a wholesale depletion of the funds of the fire department, or all three motions would be defeated. Finally, however, the matter was referred to the committee of the whole. Councilman Innes moved that the Chief Engineer of the fire department and the Board of Fire Commissoners be directed to investigate an offer made by Councilman McGarry to donate a lot on Eight street, between Alameda and Tennessee streets, and report as to the adaptability of the location for a fire engine station, but the motion was tabled.

The hearing of the protests against the acceptance of the Figueroa street pavement, continued from two weeks ago, was again taken up and the documents read. They are, in substance, that the work has not been satisfactorily done, that the price is excessive, and that there was collusion between the bituminous limerock and porphyry companies to prevent other parties from bidding, thereby depriving property-owners of the benefits of competition.

Herman Silver, on behalf of the protestants, addressed the Council at some length, claiming that the contract had been obtained by false representations, the representative of the limerock company having guaranteed that the price should not exceed 27 cents per foot, and an agreement, either verbal or otherwise, had been made with favored parties at that gure. He further claimed that the pavement had not been properly inspected, that it is and has been covered with sand and mud, and that in place of being a benefit had been a positive detriment. Mr. Silver further claimed that the contract was vitiated by the acts of the company, that the material is inferior, and the work has not been properly done.

J. F. Crank, receiver for the cable company, stated that he had made a contract for the paving of the street between his car tracks, and that actual work will commence in atout ten days. The work is to be first class and the cost is 38 cents cash. The contract is only from Pico to Washington streets, but he is now prepared to go ahead to Sixth street as soon is the people on Pearl street wish to pave. The delay has been caused owing to sincertainty about certain arrangements, but now that they have been completed and the road is being prepared for electricity the railroad company is ready and anxious to proceed with the work.

City Engineer Dockweiler denied that he is in any way responsible for the acceptance of the street. His part of the work had been properly done and he referred to his record in the past in support of his position.

Street Superintendent Hutchison briefly defended himself, and gave the facts about the appointment of the inspector.

VERY little thing that can be done in a business in the way of attention more than doubles itself in the additional business it brings. Catalina Island is a very popular summer resort. It has been made popular by the care and attention paid every one; there is no extortion in any way; everything is clean, neat and orderly, and the impression one gains by a visit is given additional impetus by the jollity of the crowd. It is enjoyment of a high order: the management seems to cater to good amusements. This demonstrates to a certainty that when a business is conducted for the benefit of the people as well as to make money, it is surely more prosperous than where a niggardly policy is pursued. Little attention paid to little details brings the best returns. A lady who was quite hard of hearing made the remark a few days ago to the writer that she enjoyed trading here, as the clerks all treated her so well; she said her infirmity was looked upon as something to make fun of by some, but here she was always treated right. Some people are very sensitive, and too much care cannot be taken to avoid giying offense. Where one attends to their business thoroughly no opportunity is offered for making remarks. One reason for the large increase in Dress Goods sales is attributed to the manner in which you are treated. Dress Goods sales are having a very large increase; the stock is well-nigh perfect now; two large shipments arrived yesterday; this, with what has already been received, makes the Dress Goods Department the very largest in the city. We are steadily increasing the trade all over the house. There is no reason why the trade should not double this fall for the very reason we have pulled the wagon to the top and the going will be very much easier from now on. Shoes are being sold at factory cost. Los ANGELES, Aug. 22, 1892. The Mark Lane Express in its weekly review of the English grain trade says:
"Crops have been benefited by a rain during the past week, especially oats in the middle and north of England. Foreign wheat dropped 1s, except Indian, which is steadier. The total supply of wheat held in Great Britain is 6,281,000 quarters against 4,382,000 at the corresponding period of 1891. Barley, oats and beans are firm. Corn is 3d cheaper. Today new and old English wheat sold at an average of 30s 11d. Foreign wheat was neglected and 6d lower. Flour declined 6d. Peas were 6d lower. The Railroad Controversy Remains in Statu Quo.

The City Council Meets in Regular Session.

Work on the Outfall Sewer is Progressing Rapidly.

Evangelical Lines More Closely Drav Here Than Elsewhere Summer Tourists Returning Home-Notes and Brevitles.

The railroad fight was fought over again yesterday afternoon before the City Coun-cil, and when the smoke of battle cleared cil, and when the smoke of battle cleared away the combatants occupied the same position as when they started, and no blood was spilled. The result of it all was that adjournment was made without any action being taken, the Council deciding to resolve itself into a committee of the whole, in connection with City Attorney Arthur, to draw up an ordinance in a modified form, covering the ground as nearly as possible overing the ground as nearly as possible to the satisfaction of both parties to the

to the satisfactors controversy.

Of course every member of the Council was present, and the limited space outside the railing was full to overflowing with in-terested spectators, mostly residents of the

when Mayor Weed announced that the when Mayor Weed announced that the hall was open, Attorneys Metcalfe and Gibbon stepped to the front laden with voluminously signed petitions on this and that side of the question. The petitioners were divided into all manner of groupings—property-owners, residents on Colorado street, business men, residents of the West Side, and residents of the East Side. Fortunately for all present, the reading of the petitions was omitted.

Mr. Gibbon, in behalf of the Terminal Company, stated that the road simply asked the granting of such privileges as would be to the best interests of the town as well as those of the company itself. In the face of such a determined and wholly respectable those of the company itself. In the face of such a determined and wholly respectable opposition Mr. Gibbon, however, graciously declined to press the point. It the Council was inclined to heed the requests of the opponents of the measure, he asked that the ordinance be not voted down, but in order to save time, that adjournment be made until a later hour to afford an opportunity to frame amendments that would make the ordinance satisfactory to both sides.

Mr. Metcalfe then took the floor. He started out by reading extracts from a paper, which went to show that while the Terminal petitioners exceeded in number those on the other side of the question, the latter represented a big majority in the matter of property holdings. The speaker then proceeded to score the company severely, reviewing the past history of the voad, and the generous treatment it had received in Pasadena. Mr. Metcalfe called attention to the building of a sidewalk on Colorado street from Delacy street to a point beyond Pasadena avenue for the express convenience of the company. Reference was made also to the old and the new franchises under which the company operates, the assertion being made that the new franchise is less binding in several important particulars than the old one. These remarks naturally evoked a reply from Mr. Gibbon, who made plain the fact that the jidewalk was built not at the sole request of the company, but of all the property owners. Mr. Gibbon furthermore took occasion to show that the old franchise was annulled in favor of the new one at the reowners. Mr. Gibbon furthermore took occasion to show that the old franchise was annulled in favor of the new one at the request of the Altadena Railroad Company because as drawn up it was not worth the paper it was written on. In the new franchise the interests of the city are better protected than in the old one, all of which statements were fully borne out by Trustee Lukens and City Attorney Arthur, who explained very clearly what changes had been made in the reading of the ordinance, and the reason therefor. Adjournment was then made for half an hour to give the opposing parties time to agree on a satisfactory form of ordinance.

Mr. Gibbon, in the course of his remarks, emphatically denied that the road comes in the attitude of a mendicant before the Pasadena public. The statement was made the attitude of a mendicant before the Pas-adena public. The statement was made that the road by its liberal service has not met expenses by any means since it began operations less than three years ago, and that Pasadena has certainly reaped a large proportion of whatever benefits may have accrued. Attention was called to the fact that the names of more residents of Pasa-dena were affixed to the railroad petition that the names of more residents of Pasa-dena were affixed to the railroad petition than to that of, those who opposed the crossing, and it was argued with considera-ble force that as this is a matter where the traveling public is chiefly concerned, as much importance should be attached to the signature of the man who is worth a dollar as to that of the millionaire, so long as both are patrons of the road. During the half-hour adjournment a spir-ited discussion ensued between the opposboth are patrons of the road.

During the half-hour adjournment a spirited discussion ensued between the opposing clans, while the Councilmen smoked their Havanas in the rear room. The proposed ordinance was read very carefully and every objectionable feature was stricken out by Mr. Gibbon as soon as suggested, until it provided that only two instead of three tracks should cross Colorado street and that no switching should be done on the sidestrack. The railroad attorney actually conceded everything asked for by his friends, the enemy, some of whom expressed themselves as entirely satisfied with the new version. Just as an amicable settlement seemed imminent, somebody, after carefully scanning the map, evolved the idea that some time in the future there was a possibility of the company putting in a switch on the straight altadena track just north of Colorado street. What reason there would be for such a switch was not stated, but the mere idea of such a thing ever happening was sufficient to arouse the most direful apprehension in the minds of most of the anti-crossing people. Mr. Gibbon very naturally refused to agree to inserting any more restrictive clauses in the ordinance. He had made a valiant fight, and had confined himself strictly to the points at issue. After agreeing to every suggested change in the most prominent leaders of the opposition had expressed themselves as entirely satisfied, the new idea of an imaginary imposition on the part of the railroaders was sprung, and of course there was another row.

tion on the part of the railroaders was sprung, and of course there was another row.

The result of it all was the Council got tired waiting for the warring factions to fix it up between themselves, hence they resolved to take the matter in their own hands as above stated. Just prior to adjournment C. D. Daggett made a brief explanatory speech against the crossing, which was responded to by Mr. Gibbon calling the Council's attention to the fact that Mr. Daggett is not a resident of Pasadena. OTHER BUSINESS BEFORE COUNCIL.

City Council met in regular session at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, President Weed in the chair, and Trustees Lukens, Clarke, McQuilling and Cox present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The Auditing and Finance Committee reported favorably on bills to the amount of $5242.99, which were approved and warrants ordered drawn to this amount, A communication was read from Mrs. J. C. Skinner, asking permission to erect a wooden dwelling on North Marengo avenue. The clerk was instructed to notify the petitioner to go ahead.

Manager Millard of the Teleghone Company presented a petition asking permission to have a sign erected in front of the central office. Referred to the Committee on Streets and Alleys.

Engineer Mayer submitted the following report: "I beg leave to report that the work upon the outfall sewer to the further end of the sewer is nearly completed. The excavation is practically all done. There remains to be laid 450 feet of 20-inch pipe upon Mr. Bishop's land and nearly 36000 feet of 12-inch pipe on the sewer farm. If we do not run out of pipe, the work, as now mapped out, will be completed in ten days. We experienced some delay on account of the lack of pipe, but we now expect to be done with the work as stated above."

The rest of the meeting was given up to a discussion of the Terminal crossing matter.

It seems there is a legend on the door of the chapel in the Yosemite that it is built for the use of evangelical Christians. Nevertheless the doctor was invited to preach there and half a dozen clergymen of different denominations attended and took part in the services. Dr. Conger was also invited to conduct the Sunday-school on another Sunday, in which the representatives of the various evangelical churches heartily joined, which would probably not have happened in Pasadena.

Speaking of the observance of the Sabbath, the doctor paid his respects to the United States Senate for voting to close the educational and art departments of the World's Fair on Sunday, as well as the beautiful grounds to the public, and then voted to have liquor end all the rest of the Nearly the entire crop of the valley has been sold, and when the returns begin to come in, some profits will be given that will be pleasant news to farmers and Southern California orchardists in general. Taking it all in all the fruit season has been a most prosperous one and the prospects are for higher prices in all coming fruits, including the orange and lemon crop. Reports say the orange crop is short in Florida, which, while bad news for that State, brings better prices to California. The fruit-grower is "decidedly in it" this year. As to the pear crop, one of the largest growers said to the reporter that he was shipping all his crop East as it ripened, and he was realizing bandsome profits. The pears are about perfection this time, and there is a bountful crop.

A fatal accident occurred in this city yesterday forenoon in which Mrs. John Faulk-ner lost her life. It was caused by a gaso-Mrs. Faulkner had left the generator of the stove open and had gone into a neigh-bor's for a few minutes. On her return at 11 o'clock, in her hurry to get dinner, she turned on the generator and lighted the gasoline, which sent out a flame, filling the whole room and completely enveloped Mrs. Faulkner. Her screams attracted the at-tention of a boy, Charley Beagn, who was playing in an adjoining yard. The boy relled "Fire!" and neighbors came rushing to the scene. Finding Mrs. Faulkner enveloped in the scorching flames, C. E. Hatch seized a blanket and, wrapping it around the unfortunate woman, extinguished the flames. Drs. He was in the building on Saturday morning when Torres was taken from it, and after much persuasion told the following story, all of which he saw:

sion told the following story, all of which he saw:
"I could not sleep Friday night, for the bed in the cell I occupied was not as soft as my couch had been, and so I tossed about and thought of the foolishness of a man stealing and then getting caught. I occupy the cell farthest from the door, and the cell next to the door is tenanted by two men from Anaheim, who are here because their appetite for wine made them break into a winery near that town. The middle cell was occupied by Torres.

their appetite for wine made them break into a winery near that town. The middle cell was occupied by Torres.

"The first thing unusual which I heard was a man outside of the jail calling, Joe, open the door!" Joe, who, was the guard, replied, No, I won't fo it!" The man then said, 'If you don't I will break it down! and Joe replied, 'you had better not!" Then came a blow, a crash, and the failing of splinters could be heard. The door had been broken in.

"Then I heard the men come in the hall of the jail and one of them said: 'Give us the keys,' and the guard compiled with the request, and in a hurry, too.

"I am sure the man who got the keys knew all about the jail door leading into the ray part where the cells are, for if he hadn't it would have taken him some time to unlock the iron door. But it didn't. The door was unlocked, the lever raised, and the two end cell doors opened as the jail door did, for all three open by the raising of thelever. The door to the middle cell, occupied by the Mexican, does not work with a lever in opening, but was securely locked with a heavy padlock.

"Then the men field in and they looked into the cell nearest the den occupied by the two men from Anahlem. The men were scared nearly to death, and yelled, "We are white men, for God's sake don't touch us!" One of the mob said, "He ain't in there." Then I stepped out of my cell, and another of the mob said, "That is not seemed to be fairly protruding from their sockets, and the look of horror on his face I shall never forget. It haunts me now, and I see him in fancy yet, begging for that mercy he never got.

"Then when they got him gagged they stood him up and tied his hands behind him. Three of the mob remained to guard the jailer, and the rest holding up the limp body of Torres-jeft the jail. I believe that every-spark of life had been choked out of the Mexican before he left the jail, so that the hangman's nose was not needed to satisfy the vengeance of the men.

"There were fourteen men in the mob, and they wore masks, made out of white cloth, with eye-holes cut in it. They meant business, and when I get out of jail, you bet, I'll stay out."

Some of our people regret the lynching for the reason that they believe had Francisco Torres been brought to trial, evidence would have been adduced that would have led to the uncarthing of a gang of cuthroats who live in the Santiago Cafion, and who steal, and commit other depredations. It was believed that Torres was one of the ring-leaders of this gang, and that on trial he might have implicated other Mexicans.

Still others believe that there was a movement on foot among the Mexicans of Torres's character, to take the jail some night and 'set the murderer free. With help he might have in this way escaped punishment.

However, all these rumors and facts are useless now, for the vengeance of our peo-punishment.

However, all these rumors and facts are useless now, for the vengeance of our people has fallen upon the Mexican, and Francisco Torres is no more.

The Keating-Victor Matter-Dr. Keating's Statement—Water Suit.

Respecting the charges instituted against him, Dr. Keating makes the following statement.

As to the true facts of the charges made against my management of the county hos-pital, as I had just returned from a ten day's vacation at the sea coast, I did not know what the charges were, and only knew that there was no just ground for any charge that could be brought against me in my management of the county hospital. In view of this fact I was obliged to avail myself of a constitutional right, and demand specific charges in writing.

The causes which led to the dismissal of Assistant Superintendent Bidwell were for the best interests of the management of the county hospital, and tully understood by the Board of Superyisors.

I only ask that the public will defer their judgement until the whole and true facts of the matter can be made public; which will be in proper time.

train, which was due to arrive in Los Angeles at 2:45 Sunday afternoon, met with a bad accident at the station known as Ibex, fourteen miles this side known as Ibex, fourteen miles this side of the Needles. At 2 o'clock Sunday morning the train had pulled into a sidetrack at the point named to leave the main track clear for the eastbound overland. The train having passed, the westbound overland was backed toward the main track. At the switch curve one truck of the rear sleeping car became derailed and ran upon the ties for a distance, before the companion truck of that car followed. At that point is an embankment six or eight point is an embankment six or eight feet high, and down this the sleeper rolled, dragging with it the tourist car rolled, dragging with it the tourist car and one coach.

All three of the cars rolled over on their sides before the train could be brought to a standstill, smashing all windows of the under side. The sleeping passengers were aroused suddenly, those occupying berths on the upper side awakening in the company of entire strangers on the opposite side of the aisle. The people were thrown together so unexpectedly, the sensation gether so unexpectedly, the sensation of falling was so terrible and the sound of broken glass so ominous that dire confusion followed the accident. Men yelled and groaned and women screamed

When the passengers were assisted in getting out of the cars it was found that a number of them had sustained slight injuries, consisting principally of bruises and cuts from broken glass. injuries.
The trainmen and cooler male passengers made the best of the situation until a relief could be sent for. The wrecking crew came from the Needles and the passengers were taken back to that point, where they were given their breakfast at 7:45. It was here that an official of the Atlantic and Pacific road appeared among the bruised and scratched passengers and proceeded to settle the damage claims proceeded to settle the damage claims of each one. It is understood that the claims were all within the bounds of reason and were paid at once, none being so large as to involve a lawsuit. A train was made up at the Needles and the passengers were brought on through to Los Angeles, arriving here about eight hours overdue. Capt. J. R. Mullett and wife, for-merly of Santa Barbara, were passen-gers on the train. The Captain was gers on the train. The Captain was seen by a Times reporter, and asked about the accident. He related the particulars substantially as given above. He said the confusion which followed the derailment of the car was something awful, and he thinks that he and his wife were the only passengers who were not injured. The interiors of the cars looked as though they had been smashed with a hammer and sledges. He did not like the accom-modations in the train which brought the passengers to Los Angeles, as they had to ride in ordinary coaches

It wasn't much of a fall—only about six feet, you know, and there was nothing much broken but the windows. It was one of those unforeseen accidents that happen on the best regulated railroads, and to one who has been in as many smash-ups as I who has been in as many smash-ups as I have it wasn't of any particular impor-tance. Yes, there was a man who struck a match to look for his pants and of course that was a dangerous thing to do. We made him blow it out, and presently a woman in another part of the car exclaimed, 'Why, these are men's pants, and, sure enough, she had 'em. I got a big six-foot Texan to help me look out of one of the windows on the side of the sleeper that was up, and when I saw where we were I told the people there really wasn't any dan-ger, as we couldn't fall any further. Then we got out and waited until we were taken back to the Needles. Bless you, there were no serious injuries at all, and everybody was able to eat his breakfast." his breakfast.'

Mr. Carson wouldn't tell it to a reporter, but it is related that he was aroused from a sound sleep by being thrown into the berth occupied by a woman on the opposite side of the aisle. "Get out of here, you nasty thing," said the irate woman. "Yes, madam, replied the imperturbable Kit, "we will get out of here as soon as we can." No official information regarding the accident at lbex could be obtained at the Los Angeles offices of the company, but the above is a correct version obtained from passengers, who all have reason to be thankful they escaped so easily. ### THE FORESTERS' FETE.

An Enjoyable Two Days' Outing at Redondo-The Programme. The second annual festival and fete held under the auspices of the members of the Independent Order of Foresters, at Redondo Saturday, was a grand success. The members, their families and friends, enjoyed themselves, and from every one could be heard praises for the order and the splendid time had. If in terest increases in the next two years as it has in the past year about the an-nual fete day, no seaside town in Los Los Angeles county wil i be able to hold the crowds attracted thither by this annual celebra on Fully 8000 people were taken to Redondo over the rail-

Five innings were played, and the score stood 7 to 7, Each winner in all the other sports was the recipient of a useful prize. In the evening a literary and musical entertainment was given in the Chautauqua Amphithealer, all the seats in that immense building being occupied.

There was also a ball in Forester's Hall, which was very largely attended. Thus the evening could be spent as any one might wish.

The members, their families and friends, and the members of the Redondo churches all went Sunday morning to the amphitheater to attend Sunday services, and listened to a scholarly and interesting sermon by Rev. J. W. Morris of Compton, Past High Chaplain High Court of California, who chose for his subject. "The Ground and Spirit of Fraternity." Rev. Morris was, at the close of his sermon, warmly coagratulated by all for the manner in which he preached.

Objections were made to asking that a voter should pledge himself to vote for the whole county ticket.

Mr. Burke of Rivera believed that the head of the ticket was enough to ask a voter to pledge himself for. He was opposed to asking more.

New Departure in the Way of a Pledge for Voters.

The Name of the Congression Added to the Head of the Ticket-No Change in the Manner of Voting-Resolutions.

The Republican County Central Com mittee met yesterday morning at the rooms of the Lincoln Club for the purpose of arranging for the coming primary election and convention. There was a full attendance of committeemen present, representatives from the country districts being out in force, and but few proxies answering to the names of

The chairman, however, rapped sharply for order, and the committee, realizing that a serious mistake had been made, discussion was at once cut off and it was finally moved, seconded and carried that the pledge to qualify a voter to cast a ballot at the next primaries shall be, "Will you pledge yourself to vote for Harrison and Reid for President and Vice-President and Hervey Lindley for Congressman in the coming election?" lew proxies answering to the names of city delegates. Considerable interest was manifested by spectators who stood up in the rear of the hall and in the aisles.

At 10:35 o'clock Chairman R. J. Northam and Secretary W. F. X. Par-ker took their seats, and the announce-ment was made that business would be proceeded with.

A gentleman from Garvanza was the first to break the ice. His district for a long time has been in trouble as to what were their rights in respect to representation, and the spokesman asked that at the coming convention two delegates be given them. A motion was finally carried allowing Garvanza two delegates.

Garvanza having) succeeded in her claims, a representative from Acton asked that two names from that district be given seats in the county convention. Secretary Parker stated that the rule had been that each precinct should be allowed one delegate for the first fifty votes, and one for each twenty-five over fifty. Where a precinct did not have fifty votes, even though it lacked allowed. Acton did not get the extra delegate.

Chairman Northam hinted that the business of the committee was not being disposed of, and this had the effect of calling to the floor John A. Pirtle of Ver-non, who moved that the primaries he held on September 3, between the hours of 12 and 7 o'clock. The motion was seconded, and then followed a long discussion as to the advisability of keeping the judges in certain districts shut out from their daily avocations with but lit-tle to do—the votes in such cases being easily received and disposed of in a much shorter time than that specified in the motion. One gentleman from Pomona stated that 12 was the dinner hour of a great many and that the judges would be deprived of that meal.

Another committeeman believed that a longer time should be given the city folks than to those in the country. Thus the matter was argued, inter-spersed with amended motions and subtitutes, until the original motion was Having received notice from the Republican State Central Committee that the campaign will be opened over the entire State on Saturday, September 3, 1892, and believing it to be of the utmost importance that this first meeting may be the very best one of the campaign, and having in view the best interest of the Republican party the best interest of the Republican party and the success of the entire ticket, now, therefore, be it Resolved, first, that the chairman invite Third, that the chairman extend to Gov.

H. H. Markham an invitation to be present and act as president of the meeting.
Fourth, that the chairman extend to Hervey Lindley, the nominee for Congress in this district, an invitation to be present and deliver the opening address of the meeting.

The resolution was carried, wher ome delegate asked how about the primaries occurring on the same date, and whether it would not be well to change the date of the latter.

A motion was then put and carried changing the time for holding the primaries to September 2, the hours to e the same as resolved upon, viz: from

In Pasadena it had been resolved to settle the question of ward or precinct voting by leaving it with the commit-tee. C. M. The Democratic Congressional Situation Several delegates to the Democratic Congressional Convention from outside the city came in last evening to consult with the local managers, They report with the local managers, They report a very strong sentiment in their sections in favor of indorsing Cannon openly or making no nomination at all. In fact, three or four delegates are reported to have declared their intention of voting for Cannon anyway, whether the convention makes a nomination or not. This talk set the city managers to thinking, and some of those who have heretofore strongly advocated making a nomination, show signs of weakening. Most of the delegates leave for Santa Barbara this afternoon, though some will not leave until Wednesday morning. Several of the delegates, however, are already on the ground.
